About me

A Computer Science student specializing in Full Stack Development, with strong expertise in front-end and back-end technologies. Confident in problem-solving, data structures, and algorithms (DSA), and adept at building scalable web applications. Known for a proactive approach, strong coding skills, and focus on efficient, user-centric solutions.

Experience

Software Engineering Job Simulation, Forage, Goldman Sachs — February 2025-May 2025

In the Goldman Sachs Software Engineering Job Simulation on Forage, I learned how to debug and optimize code, work with Git, and solve real-world software development problems—gaining insight into the role of a software engineer in a corporate setting.
